A Message from the Worship Committee

Hello friends,

Sandra Boston and I met with representatives from Northfield and Bernardston UU churches and we are talking about joining together for Sunday Zoom services in the fall. We are early in the discussion with lots of details to be worked on. We are tentatively talking about shared services 2 x month and All Souls services 2 x month probably at 10:00 a.m.

From the Worship Committee's perspective, collaborated services will strengthen and grow the UU message in our community and it will be a treat to have local services delivered without weekly work. Our speakers' and musicians' payment will be a shared expense. There has been mention of hiring a media technician possibly.

Northfield has a strong Religious Education (RE) program and is planning to offer Our Whole Lives (OWL) curriculum for the 4th-6th grade levels.

Our sister churches have expressed interest in All Souls' planned monthly focus on Racial Justice and anti-racism. Perhaps that will be our monthly offering.

I'm interested in keeping our congregation in the loop as we proceed. I would love any feedback. We are approaching this as a trial from September through the end of the year.

Stay well,

Kate Mason - Worship Committee

Opinion

“Though I may not be here with you, I urge you to answer the highest calling of your heart and stand up for what you truly believe.”

John Lewis, the civil rights leader, asked The New York Times to publish his last words, on the day of his funeral.
